

New teaching material for pupils with 3-5 years of learning English

A story and exercise book about feelings, friendship and about daring to ask for help

One story – two versions

The teacher is equipped with a teaching tool that embraces multiple levels of learning in the same class, and thereby reduces the preparation time.

Togetherness and differentiation

The pupils are on the same page of the book, regardless of which version they are reading. This creates a learning environment where all children are actively working on their individual level of English.

Engages pupils

The accompanying exercise book develops the pupils' language and creativity through exercises in memory, imagination, narration, role-playing and grammar.
